

Discipline-specific examples of program-level goals	Universal examples of program-level goals
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Integrate modern information technology, computational and engineering tools into engineering practice. 2. Demonstrate the ability to read, evaluate and interpret general economic information. 3. Analyze media images and narratives. 4. Assess the role of conflict in individual and societal systems. 5. Make appropriate inferences and deductions from biological information. 6. Critically evaluate the effectiveness of agencies, organizations, and programs addressing environmental problems. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Formulate a well organized argument supported by evidence. 2. Communicate effectively in written, spoken and graphical form. 3. Develop the ability to solve problems in the discipline. 4. Understand the importance of and application of critical thinking skills to complex situations. 5. Achieve an understanding of professional, civic, and ethical responsibility.